Description

Fine impressionist 20th-century oil on board of an English landscape, with trees and blustery clouds. Charles Bertie Hall painted marine scenes, landscapes, and town scenes in both America, UK, and Europe. He exhibited his paintings mostly in the UK from the mid 1980s. The artist has indicated this piece was painted 'En Plein air', or outdoors after a long walk near the Box Hill area of Surrey. This piece was used as a reminder of the light, composition, and colors from that day to paint a much larger landscape that is in the artist's family collection. He's best known by his friends as 'Bertie'. His paintings have been collected all over the world with many being sold in America and the UK. This piece recently came from the private collection of the artist's family. The painting is signed lower left. It has been framed in a Vintage English off-white frame. Perfect for any room in a home, such as a dining area, living room, hallway, den, study, or bedroom.
