

Impressionist view of people in St. Marks Square in Venice

$3,465

REF: 2386

Height: 101.6 cm (40")

Width: 91.44 cm (36")

Description

Wonderful Impressionist view of St. Marks Square, Venice.

Pam Masco was an American from Massachusetts, and a graduate of the School of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts (1976). She was married to the English artist John Heseltine. Her work is in well-known private and corporate collections and has been shown at the Royal Society of British Artists, the Royal Watercolour Society and other London Galleries as well as in the Provinces. She travelled throughout the U.S.A. and Europe and painted American and European subjects, portraits, landscape and figure compositions, still life and interiors. From 1978 she was involved in drawing, painting, technical painting courses, watercolour and graphic design. She illustrated for major British and American publishers until 1988. Authors include Bruce Chatwin, Daphne du Maurier and V.S. Pritchett. She is listed in Who's Who in Art, UK and The Dictionary of British Artists Since 1945 by David Buckman. Collections and Exhibitions include The Wentworth Club, Barings Bank, Lord and Lady Holme, Bernard and Leslie Gallecher, Colin and Eimear Montgomerie, W.H. Patterson Fine Art London, the Royal Society of British Artists, the Royal Watercolour Society, Singer Friedlander, the Clarendon Gallery London and David Messum London.