Description

English 19th century folk art portrait of an English spaniel dog in a landscape.

Painted with a great deal of skill and care this is a charming 19th-century piece.

With the original 19th-century artist's board makers label on the reverse, this piece is a great piece of folk art.

There is also an incised or impressed makers mark in the panel as well.

The painting is framed in a vintage English swept frame and is in great untouched condition, meaning it has no restoration or inpainting.
