Description

French 20th-century Impressionist harbor, with fishing boats at sea, with landscape beyond.

20th-century French impressionist harbor scene.

The artist has achieved a very decorative image with the use of complementary colors throughout the composition.

The freshness in his brushstrokes has given the piece a desirable, energetic and atmospheric feel.

One can only wonder which of the major impressionists was his most important influence. Could it have been Claude Monet or Renoir or even the post-impressionist Cezanne?

This piece is perfect for almost any room in a home, either a bedroom, family room, study, dining room, and den.

The complementary colors palette for this piece is blue, gray, green, rope, beige, brown, black, and white.

The painting has been re-framed in a giltwood hand made English frame.
